

ARTICLE SIX
ACADEMIC FREEDOM

- 6.1 The parties agree to maintain and encourage full freedom, within the law, of inquiry, teaching, and research. In the exercise of this freedom, Faculty members may, without limitation, discuss their own respective subjects in their classrooms; they may not, however, claim as their right the privilege of discussing in their classrooms matter which has no relation to their subjects. It is understood that, outside the classroom, Faculty members are always free to function in a manner consistent with their rights as citizens employed by the University.

- 6.2 There shall be no censorship of the Library collection.
