Fireworks are an American tradition and an annual rite of passage. Fireworks, however, especially illegal ones, can also cause serious injury and easily be fatal. There are around 200 firework-related injuries a day reported in the months surrounding the Fourth of July.

To keep you and your loved ones safe this summer, make sure you only buy legal fireworks with a manufacture’s label and store them in a cool, dry place. Light only one firework at a time, and never place any part of your body directly over a fireworks device. Back up to a safe distance immediately after lighting the fuse.

Never carry fireworks in your pocket or shoot fireworks off in glass or metal containers, and do not relight any that fail. Always keep a supply of water nearby in case of fire and douse all used fireworks with water.

Three Common Exercise Excuses and How to Beat Them

We all have our reasons for not working out, yet excuses only prevent us from being happy and healthy. Here are some of the most common excuses and ways to overcome them. Remember, no one ever regrets a workout!

Too tired – The first and most common reason to avoid regular exercise evaporates as soon as you push through it the first time. Multiple studies have shown regular physical activity can improve energy.

Too busy – Another popular excuse, it’s an easy out to cite scheduling conflicts before shrugging off the gym, but according to the American Heart Association, only 75 minutes of weekly vigorous exercise is needed to improve your health. Not motivated – Possibly the most difficult excuse to overcome, there are several ways to jumpstart motivation. One of the best is to post a goal using social media. No one likes falling short in front of others, so commit publicly to hold yourself accountable.

Summer Savings Tips

You can save money throughout the year, but the warm temperatures of summer provide a few additional benefits from the long, warm days, as well as challenges that come from staying cool. Here are some solar-powered savings tips sure to help your bank balance.

1. Turn off the air conditioner – Obviously, your air conditioner is no good to you if you never use it, but try to pattern AC use around the weather and time of day. For those times when it’s breezy or simply warm, a fan and open windows work just as well and for far less money.

2. Replace air conditioner filters – Dirty filters restrict airflow and can cause the system to run longer, increasing energy usage. Experts recommend changing your filters every 30 to 60 days or more frequently if you have pets or allergies.

3. Take advantage of long daylight hours – One of the best benefits of the long summer days is reducing the need for lighting in your home.

4. Cook outside – Using a stove or oven can create excess heat inside your house. Grilling is one of the best ways to take advantage of the outdoors when the weather is nice—and keeps your indoors cool.

5. Let laundry dry outside.

6. Plan ahead for future projects – The end of summer is one of the best times of year for big discounts on home and garden materials.

Cancer Survivors

Life after cancer is a growing reality for a number of people who are now described as cancer survivors, rather than victims. However, there is significant emotional, physical and financial stress associated with fighting cancer, and survivors may have trouble coping with the aftermath of a cancer battle.

If you are struggling with the stress of being a cancer survivor, seek out support in the following ways:
- Consider seeing a therapist or counselor
- Attend a support group
- Discuss your feelings with family and close friends and ask for support
- Seek out local and online resources, such as online support groups, community organizations, church groups or social services
- Get at least 30 minutes of exercise daily
- Maintain a healthy diet
- Follow up with your physician regularly
